Data Classification Policy

Purpose and Scope

This Data Classific	cation Policy provi	ides the basis for protecting the confide	entiality of data at by establishing	a data classification system. From time	to time, may update thi	s policy and implement different levels	of security controls for different info	rmation assets, bas	sed on risk and other considerations. Th	nis policy is guided by security requi	irements specific to	o including applicab	ole laws and regulations.
This policy applie	es to all	data assets utilized by person	nel acting on behalf of	or accessing	its applications, infrastructure, systems	or data. All personnel are re	quired to read, acc	cept and follow all p	policies and plans.
Classificat	ion Manag	ement
AII	data should	be classified into one of the following f	four classifications:
<ul> <li>Restricted D</li> </ul>	ata,
<ul> <li>Confidential</li> </ul>	l Data,
<ul> <li>Internal Data</li> </ul>	a, and <ul> <li>Public Data.</li> </ul>
All data that is no	ot explicitly classifi	ed should be treated as Internal data ar	nd a classification should be deterr	mined and request	ted.
The examples be	elow are not exhau	ustive. Data owners and senior manager	ment are responsible for assigning the	types of ways cer	rtain data can be used as well as assigni	ing the appropriate classification to		data.
•		appropriate data owner or a classificati believe certain d	lata should be recl	lassified, please contact	•
Changes to the c	classification of dat	ta must be approved by the senior man	agement of
	•

Classification Levels

Public Data

Public data is information th	at may be disclosed to	any person regardless of their affiliati	on with The	e Public classification is	s not limited to data that is of public in	teres or intended to be distribute	ed to the public; the cla	ssification applies to data that does no	ot require any level of protecti	ion from disclosure. Wh	nile it may be necessary to protect orig	ginal
(source) documents from un	nauthorized modification	on, Public data may be shared with a b	oroad audience both within and o	utside	and no steps need be taken to pre	event its distribution.
Examples of Public data incl	lude:
<ul> <li>published press release</li> </ul>	es;
<ul> <li>published documentat</li> </ul>	ion
<ul> <li>published blog posts</li> </ul>
<ul><li>anything on the</li></ul>	public we	ebsite
<ul><li>anything on</li></ul>	social media	profiles
Internal Data  Internal data is information to	that is notontially sonsi	tive and is not intended to be shared a	with
	•	tive and is not intended to be shared v	vith
·		ch when the unauthorized disclosure,	ito alteration, or destruction of			, its
·	,	should not be disclosed outside of person or group that created the data.	lt ic nformation as Internal where appropri Internal or how to treat Internal data, y should talk to your manage		Thermal of how to treat internal data, y	Ou orrodia taik to your manage		•
Examples of Internal data in	clude:
<ul><li>unpublished</li></ul>	memos
<ul> <li>unpublished marketing</li> </ul>	materials
<ul><li>non-public</li></ul>	customer and	partner names
<ul> <li>procedural documenta</li> </ul>	ntion that should remain	n private

Confidential Data

Confidential data is information that, if made available to unauthorized parties, may adversely affect individuals or This classification also includes data that may be required to keep confidential, either by law or under a confidentiality agreement with a third party, such as a vendor. This information should be protected against unauthorized disclosure or modification. Confidential data should be used only when necessary for business purposes and should be protected both when it is in use and when it is being stored or transported.
Any unauthorized disclosure or loss of Confidential data must be reported to  and an email should be sent to  .
Examples of Confidential data include:
<ul> <li>individual employment information, including salary, benefits and performance evaluations for current, former, and prospective employees</li> <li>legal documents</li> <li>customer data</li> <li>contractual agreements</li> <li>compliance reports such as SOC 2</li> <li>data that is subject to an NDA or other confidentiality clause</li> <li>information shared by partners or investors</li> </ul> Restricted Data Restricted data includes any information that has a contractual, legal, or regulatory obligation to safeguard in the most stringent manner. Data should be classified as Restricted when the unauthorized disclosure, alteration or destruction of that data could cause a significant level of risk to, its customers, or its partners. The highest level of security controls should be applied to Restricted Data.
Examples of Restricted data include:
• codebase
• intellectual property
<ul> <li>passwords, private keys and other credentials</li> </ul>
• bank information
• tax ids
<ul> <li>information related to pending litigation or investigations</li> </ul> data required to be protected by regulatory obligations <ul> <li>additional employment information such as background checks, health and medical information, social security numbers.</li> </ul> Restricted data should be used only when no alternative exists and must be carefully protected. Any unauthorized disclosure, unauthorized modification, or loss of Restricted data must be immediately reported to your manager and

Handling Information

All persons accessing classified information must follow the rules listed above. Each incident related to handling classified information must be reported in accordance with the Security Incident Response Plan.

The method for secure erasure and destruction of media is prescribed in the Configuration and Asset Management Policy.

Exceptions
	business needs, local situation	s, laws and regulations may c	occasionally call for an exception	to this policy or any other	policy. If an exc	eption is needed,	management will de	ermine an acceptable alterna	itive approach.
Enforcement
Any violation of	this policy or any other	policy or procedure	e may result in disciplinary action	on, up to and including terminatio	n of employment.
reserves the righ	nt to notify the appropriate law er	forcement authorities of any	unlawful activity and to c	ooperate in any investigation of s	uch activity.	does not and scope of we	ct in violation of this policy to be ork.	vithin an employee's or conti	ractor's course
, , ,	or contractor who is requested to this policy must provide a writter ger of as soon	or verbal complaint to his or Responsibilit	y, Review, and Audit reviews and updates its secur	ty policies and plans to main	tain organizational se	ecurity objectives and meet regul	atory requirements at least ar	nnually. The results are share	d with appropriate parties interna	lly and findings are tracked to	o resolution. Any changes are cor	nmunicated across the organizati	on.
This document i	s maintained by	_ •
This document v	was last updated on	•	